

Dear Everett,

I finally, I got the chance to read your movie script. Without being told, I knew that this story had to be autobiographical, in some way. The pain that you felt as a child bled through the pages and kept me from sleeping for several days. Obviously, this is powerful stuff. Was your mother really that cruel? It is an amazing story and I couldn't stop turning the pages. You have an amazing story and I hope that we get a chance to do something together with it. Please let me know how you want me to proceed.

Best regards,

Linda Nelson
